CAMP WILSON A MAGNET

BIG ATTENDANCE OF VETERANS AND THEIR FRIENDS IS REPORTED

The following letter from Commander Clark of the N. P. Banks Post shows that Camp Wilson is a magnet:

Camp Wilson, Huntington Beach
Friday, Aug. 9, '18

The Southern California Veterans Association continues to attract the crowd and its daily programs are greeted with capacity houses. Yesterday's program was given over to a Camp Fire at which rousing speeches were made by Comrades Ed. Seymore, A. V. Cole, and Judge Langley. The main address was by the silver tongued orator, Jas. A. Walton, whose stirring words thrilled the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm. A pleasant feature was the presentation of a baton to W. E. Herendeen, the entertainment manager and director of the G. A. R. Glee club by the club.

The evening program was given by the Santa Ana Corps and was of an excellent character throughout and was greeted with applause by the audience that filled every seat in the big Auditorium.

The attendance is well up to the number of past years notwithstanding the passing of a large number of the old comrades. A larger number of tents are now occupied than at any of the gatherings of recent years at same day of encampment.

The program for this evening, Friday, will be given by the Ladies of Grand Army of the Republic.

The big event will occur on Tuesday, the 13th, which is "Bean Day," which never fails to bring in the crowds that have learned to accord to "Our Mary" the praise she has earned by her many years of faithfully satisfying the palate of hungry veterans.

FINED FOR LEAVING FIRE

Two cases for violations of Federal Forestry Regulations were heard before Justice Harry Miller Thursday afternoon. The first was that of G. W. Higason of Los Angeles, charged by Ranger E. P. Hamilton with leaving a fire unextinguished when departing from camp in Big Tejunga Canyon. He plead guilty and a fine of $50 was imposed by Justice Miller, which he paid.

The same charge was brought in the second case which was against Dr. E. F. Archer of Glendale. He plead "not guilty" and the testimony of witnesses showed that he had not left camp when the fire was observed by Ranger Hamilton but on the contrary was not more than fifty feet away though out of sight of the Ranger. The testimony further showed that his vest, watch, and purse had been left not fifteen feet from the blaze, which Judge Miller considered sufficient proof that he had not abandoned the camp. He was therefore found "not guilty" and released.

NEEDLEWOMEN WANTED

The secretary of the Glendale Red Cross chapter is anxious that as wide publicity as possible should be given to the fact that there is now plenty of work in the Hospital garment section and volunteers are wanted. A large allotment of serge dresses and white petticoats for girls, of bed-socks, pajamas and hospital shirts must be ready by September 1. That means that many workers will be required. Mrs. R. W. Meeker and Miss Inglehart rendered good service on Wednesday in cutting out dresses, Mrs. F. C. Bierbower worked all day Friday at the same task, and Mrs. Jeannette Smith, the regular cutter of the chapter will be at work Monday evening as usual.

DEATH OF CHARLES D. REPPEY

Charles Douglas Reppey died Thursday, August 8th, 1918, at his home, 115 North Ellis Avenue, Eagle Rock, California, at the age of 72 years. A short commitment service will be held Monday at 4 p. m., at Rosedale Cemetery, Los Angeles, of which the Pulliam Undertaking Company will have charge.

Mrs. Malcolm McLaren of 145 S. Jackson street has received a card announcing the safe arrival "over there" of her son, Robert McLaren. He is in Co. M., 367th Inf. and has promised to write his mother a real letter as soon as possible. Mr. McLaren's brother, William C. McLaren of Westerly, R. I. is his guest and is so pleased with this part of Southern California that he is considering sending for his wife and making his permanent home here. He is superintendent of construction for the Westerly Automatic Telephone Co.

MORTGAGING SUGAR

SAVING FRUIT JUICES TO BE MADE INTO JELLY NEXT WINTER

On account of the shortage of sugar, many housewives are bemoaning the prospect of the curtailment of the jellies and jams which take such a large amount of sugar. The following recipes taken from a bulletin sent out by the University of California, will be of immense aid in taking care of the fruits usually devoted to jellies. They have been secured through the courtesy of Mrs. A. A. Barton of this city, local chairman of the County Council of Defense. They are taken from an article on "The Preservation of Fruit Juices" by W. V. Cruess. After being thus extracted and preserved, the juices can be made into jelly next winter when sugar may be more plentiful.

Preliminary Treatment

Cut and crush apples, peel oranges and lemons, stem grapes, use berries as received. Heat slowly to 140 degrees F. Red grapes should stand about 12 hours after heating to extract color. Use a thermometer. Do not heat citrus fruits.

Extraction of Juice

The juice of berries and soft fruits can be squeezed through a cloth bag. Apples, pears and most grapes require a small press. Citrus fruits are best extracted by means of a lemon cone.

Clearing the Juice

Strain several times through a cloth bag. Standing for 12 hours before straining will settle some of the sediment. A slight cloudiness does not injure the flavor.

Filling Bottles—Tying Corks

Scald bottles and fill with the cleared juice to within 1½ inches of the mouth. Close with corks which have been boiled in water for ten minutes and tie down corks with string. Ordinary preserving jars may also be used. Seal the jars after filling.

Sterilizing

Place the bottles on their sides or corks down in a boiler with enough water to cover them. A screen at the bottom of the boiler will prevent breaking. Heat the water to 180 degrees F. and keep at this temperature for 15 minutes. Higher or longer heating injures the flavor.

Paraffining the Corks

Remove the bottles, stand on end, dry the cork with a towel and when nearly cold dip the ends of the bottles into melted paraffine. Store upright in a cool place.

Pulping Fruits—English Method

Place the fruit over a gentle heat until enough moisture comes out to prevent burning, then increase the heat until the fruit boils. Boil for an hour, stirring constantly, and can in sterilized jars. With some dry fruits usch as apples, a little water will have to be added to prevent burning.

Pulped fruit can be used for jam, stewed fruit, puddings and pies. Since we must be especially careful of sugar, it is well to make up the pulp into jam one jar at a time. The English housewife allows half a pint of sweeting to a pint of pulp. This sweetening may be made of half glucose and half sugar, or half corn syrup and half sugar.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY MEETING

A very pleasant and profitable meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of Glendale was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Kent on Arden avenue. Present as guests of honor were Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Haines of Porterville. Mr. Haines gave an exceedingly interesting account of mission work among the Indians of the Sierra Nevada Mountains on the Tule river, and told of a visit to their reservation made by himself and his wife. Mrs. Haines also made a fine talk on prayer and its answers as exemplified in the life of Hannah. An unexpected treat was furnished by Miss Alice Gray Beach, a neighbor of Mrs. Kent who played some charming piano numbers.

It had been announced that in answer to roll call each lady would be expected to give some missionary item of interest or some anecdote, and no one was disappointed, as the responses proved very interesting.

The next meeting, as planned, will be a supper at La Ramada, to which gentlemen will be invited as guests and for whose entertainment an evening program will be given.

WEATHER FORECAST—Cloudy tonight and occasionally threatening. Sunday fair. Westerly winds.

FOCH HAS ENEMY GUESSING

BRITISH PRISON CAMPS INADEQUATE FOR PRISONERS TAKEN MARCH TELLS NEWSPAPER MEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 10—Chief of Staff General March today told the weekly conference of newspaper men that the hour for America's great effort has arrived.

He declared the war has not yet been won and that America must hit hard and keep the Germans running, indicating that Gen. Foch will not relax his driving tactics.

The great advantage of the present situation, he said is that the allies now have the Germans guessing.

He revealed a confidential cable showing that the British prison camps are unable to hold all the prisoners taken.

SURROUND MONTDIDIER

GENERAL HUMBERT AND GENERAL DOBENY JOIN THEIR FORCES AND ENCIRCLE CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY, August 10.—While General Humbert's army attacked on a wide front east of Montdidier today General Dobeny's forces extended their right flank establishing contact with Humbert's army and completely encircling Montdidier.

Farther north the French caught the Germans in a pocket, capturing 21 guns and many prisoners.

AMERICANS IN PICARDY DRIVE

COOPERATING WITH THE ENGLISH THE YANKEES MAKE ADVANCE IN MORLANCOURT REGION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 10.—The British war office announced this morning that the Americans have been thrown into the drive in Picardy.

Cooperating with the British the Americans attacked around Morlancourt taking that city and the high ground to the southeast as well as all other objectives, and then repulsed heavy German counter attacks.

The Anglo-American forces also attacked further to the east with "immediate success."

South of Montdidier the French captured Le Tronquoy and two other villages, threatening Montdidier.

FIVE HUNDRED FORTY-ONE CASUALTIES

T. T. KIRK OF COVINA IS LISTED AMONG THOSE KILLED IN ACTION IN TODAY'S REPORT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 10.—Five hundred sixteen army and 25 marine casualties were announced to day making a total for the drive announced to date of 4285.

The list includes the following California men:

T. T. Kirk of Covina, killed in action.

R. D. McArthur of Los Angeles, severely wounded.

ALLIES TAKE 24,000 PRISONERS

LONDON RECEIVES UNCONFIRMED REPORTS OF CAPTURE OF MONTDIDIER BY THE FRENCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 10—The war office announced that 24,000 prisoners have been taken since August 8.

This afternoon unconfirmed reports were received here that the French had taken Montdidier.

The French war office announced that the French suddenly attacked this morning south of Montdidier, practically surrounded the city and added three more towns to the list of villages captured.

Unofficial dispatches from the front named three more positions taken by the French in the same region.

FRENCH MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

ADVANCE FOUR MILES IN SIX HOURS ON SIXTEEN MILE FRONT IN PICARDY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 10.—The French attack in Picardy this morning covered a 16-mile front from the Oise to south of the Arras. They advanced four miles in the first six hours.

BEST CAMP IN U. S.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM C. MABRY WRITES INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT CAMP LEWIS

The following letter from Captain William C. Mabry, M. D. written to a friend in Glendale giving his impressions of Camp Lewis, where he now is in the army service, will be of great interest to his many friends here:

Camp Lewis is certainly a great camp in a great place and anyone who draws this assignment is very lucky. The government has spared no effort nor expense to make it what it should be and so far as the hospital is concerned it could hardly be better. The army inspector who recently completed a tour of inspection pronounced it the best in the U. S.

That it is excellent I know. There are a great many good doctors and surgeons here, many specialists in every branch of medicine. Maj. Dudley Fulton of Los Angeles, is Commanding officer and I can safely say any mother who has a son at Camp Lewis can rest absolutely assured that in case of need he will receive as complete care, study and treatment as any multi-millionaire could buy.

The intensive training one gets here is interesting and beneficial albeit at times somewhat "strenuous" Thanks to my tennis and lawn mower. I've gotten away with it so far. Am working fairly hard, have good 'eats,' a good bed and have gotten back into the routine with greater ease and less time than I expected.

Nobody knows what the next move or next order will be. Once started that feature is forgotten and one is satisfied to do what comes to his hands knowing it is part of that task which means victory and a home free from the shadow of Prussianism.

Sincerely yours,
Capt. Wm. C. Mabry,
M. R. C. V. S.

JOHN CLARENCE HENDERSON

John Clarence Henderson, son of Mrs. Alice Henderson of 151 Eddy Avenue, Eagle Rock, California, died at her home Thursday, August 8th, 1918. August 4th he arrived from Chicago, where he had undergone an operation. His hope of recuperating here was not to be realized. Besides his mother and his wife, he is survived by a brother, Howard Henderson, also of Eagle Rock. Funeral services will be held in the Little Church of the Flowers, at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Saturday, August 10th, at 4 p. m., the Pulliam Undertaking Company having charge.

CONGREGATIONAL PICNIC

About sixty members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Glendale Congregational church attended a picnic at beautiful Brookside Park last Thursday. While the elders enjoyed the shade of the trees and the comfortable chairs in the rest porch, the younger members of the party sported in the pool. Lunch was served in the pavilion and the picknickers were fortunate in having it shared by the First Congregational church of Pasadena who gave a fine program and invited the Glendalians to join them in singing, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "Over There." and asked Pastor Marsh to make a few remarks which he gladly did in response.

AT CORONADO

A characteristic letter from Mrs. Ella Richardson postmarked at the Tent City, Coronado says: "John, Paul and I are here enjoying a week with my son, Omar Burt Richardson. The captain of the North Island Aero station has asked us to be his guests Friday and is sending his car for us. We are to dine with the officers and be shown the interesting things on the island. Mrs. Louise Tibbitts and her children are also included in the invitation. We have letters which will take us through the shipbuilding yards. The swimming is good. We are living in a tent and having a fine time. Burt is doing most of the cooking, Paul is the boss, I am resting, doing nothing and enjoying myself."

REVISING BY-LAWS

The members of the executive board of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross were in session at Red Cross headquarters for more than three hours Friday evening considering the revision of the by-laws of the local organization. The revision committee consists of Prof. R. D. White and Mrs. Glenwood Jones.

OLD SETTLERS

MRS. MARSH HOSTESS TO LADIES LONG IN THIS VICINITY

Mrs. Etta L. Marsh, of 113 North Central avenue, (Tropico District) entertained Friday afternoon a group of ladies, all old settlers of this locality, in honor of Mrs. Henry Koepke, a former resident when Glendale was new, but now living in Oregon. The afternoon was devoted to informal visiting about old times, and Hooverized refreshments of punch and wafers were served. The guest list included: Mesdames A. Stephenson, Edgar Leavitt, M. M. Stuart, M. N. Stuart, E. N. Jennison, H. M. Dow, L. C. Rice, E. T. Byram, C. D. Snyder, Winslow, S. Ayers, E. S. Barnes, Cover Melrose, J. C. Thomas, J. M. Banker, H. N. Myers, Chas. E. Mosher, John Hobbs, John A. Logan, J. R. Maxwell, S. A. Ayers, Mary Ayers, W. H. Bullis, M. P. Harrison, F. C. Richardson, D. H. Imler, J. D. Botts, J. B. Normart, J. L. Kirkham, A. K. Crawford, C. B. Wilde and the Misses Ruth Byram, Cora Hickman, Judson Harris, Jennie Cornwell, Carrie Botts, Sarah Shipman and Carrie Shipman.

DR. HOGUE SURPRISED

Dr. R. V. Hogue believes in preparedness and lives up to his principles, but he was completely surprised last Wednesday evening, and by Mrs. Hogue, who invited sixteen guests to join them at dinner in celebration of the Doctor's birthday. He has not yet told which birthday and she loyally keeps his secret. It certainly is not because he fears the draft, as a more patriotic man it would be hard to find. In defense of his sentiment the National colors were carried out in floral decorations and in the menu as far as possible, even to the cake. The place cards were red, white and blue and the favors were flag pins. Some of the guests were out-of-town friends. Mrs. Hogue was assisted by her sister, Mrs. E. L. Tuck of New Mexico, who is her house guest, and by her mother, Mrs. Addie Allen. Following the dinner, guests were entertained with patriotic readings and music of a patriotic and miscellaneous character.

ELLIS THOMAS IN NAVY

Ellis Thomas, son of Mrs. Sarah E. Thomas, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Keim, a Glendale boy who was graduated from the High School in 1915, is here for a few days. After taking a business course he was employed by the government in a very responsible position at Camp Kearny which he has been filling for the past ten months. He has now enlisted in the Navy as a Yeoman and will leave Monday for San Francisco to begin his naval training. He is at the home of his grandparents at 1442 West Second street, where any of his friends will be welcome.

ARTHUR BUDWAY HEARD FROM

Mrs. F. A. Budway, of 1432 West Fifth street, has just received a letter from her son, Private A. J. Budway, the first which has reached her since he arrived overseas. He writes that the "trip was great," that no one was sick, and he is felling fine. He says the country is beautiful; that he is attending an auto school and does not know row long he will be in that kind of trainin. He left this coast in May with the Ammunition Corps.

THE GINGERY CASE

The case against C. C. Gingery of 140 Elk street charged with disturbing the peace and arrested July 30 and removed to the county hospital, was heard before Judge Lowe, Friday. It was tried before six jurors of whom E. S. McKee of 1418 W. Colorado boulevard was foreman. W. G. Randall, deputy district attorney prosecuted the case and Atty. C. R. Maff of Los Angeles represented the defendant. About twenty witnesses were subpoenaed but only nine were examined. The defendant was acquitted.

CATS ARE CATS

Some one who says he is a subscriber to the Evening News, but does not make his name known, writes, saying: Cats in Glendale are a disgrace to the nation." The writer quotes from Evanston, Illinois, authority that cats should be muzzled, and from another authority that they should be killed or never allowed to live at the beginning. The kind way would be never to allow them to live if it is not best to have them around. To treat any dumb animal in a cruel manner is not right.

FLOATING STORE FOR BRITISH SEAMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, August 9.—British officers and sailors in the grand fleet are able to "go shopping" at sea without even stepping off their respective boats. A floating department store, fitted up by a big London store under special permit from the British admiralty, makes regular trips around the sea area where the Grand Fleet hangs out, displaying its stock on deck and handing purchases up over the sides of the big British sea fighters.

Mostly the store sells things to eat; canned meats, pickles, jam and cakes to vary the monotonous diet of the fleet. But there are all the usual departments if you eliminate the women's goods. A millinery counter would starve to death in this neighborhood.

There is a barber shop aboard the department store boat and the waiting list of patients for the barber's chair usually has about thirty names.

WHAT YOU ARE ASKED TO DO TO SAVE SUGAR

For the Household

1. No household should have on hand more than two pounds of sugar at any one time for table and cooking use and not more than twenty-five pounds for canning .

2. Canning sugar must be kept separate from that purchased for household purposes so that the Food Administration inspectors may check up the quantity on hand, the amount of fruit put up and compare it with the original amount purchased. Any excess canning sugar left over MUST be returned to the grocer. It is not permitted to use this for table purposes.

3. Do all preserving without sugar whenever possible, adding it when used in the winter or at a time when sugar will be more plentiful.

4. Each person in a family is allowed two pounds of sugar per month, which means that not more than six lumps or three teaspoonfuls may be used each day by any individual without exceeding the allowance. This two-pound allotment includes that used for cooking.

For Public Eating Houses

1. All sugar bowls should be removed from the tables and individual sugar furnished each patron.

2. Not more than two half lumps or one teaspoonful of sugar should be served a customer at a meal. He may have his choice of lump or granulated sugar, but not both.

MERE QUESTIONS ARE STAGGERING

"We used to think that we had some hard questions to answer in a United States camp in the States," writes W. J. Walker, a Y. M. C. A. war worker from his station in France, "but now we know what a simple thing is was to answer homegrown queries like those! We have another sort now. Here are a few questions I must be able to answer when I go back into the tent tomorrow:

"How much is two bits worth in French money?

"How can one send money to Greece?

"How should one address a letter to a brother in an Austrian priison camp?

"How long does it take to cable to Dallas, Texas, and how much will it cost at the week end rate?

"Will the Banque de France honor a check drawn on a bank in Rome, New York?

"Here are some of the errands I must perform after I dig out the answers to these questions:

"Bring three books for men reading only Russian who want to study French.

"Bring two khaki handkerchiefs, a money-belt at least forty-four inches long, two silk handkerchiefs initialed in embroidery. "To my Sweetheart' (to be sent by the same Lothario to two different girls), and secure the address of the Moore hospital in France.

"This job of being a Y. M. C. A. secretary over here isn't the cinch some thought it was going to be."

ATTITUDE OF IRISH

If Irishmen of Ireland expect any help, any good offices, from Americans they must help America now. If they are worthy of freedom they must fight for it. If they choose to be in effect allies of Germany, they are our enemies; and they deserve the German tyranny they invite.—New York Times.

FRENCHMEN CHEER AMERICAN MOVIES

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Aug. 10.—French and American hearts quickened in mutual patriotic enthusiasm on a recent afternoon when the American film, "America's Answer to the Huns," was shown for the first time in the Gaumont palace.

The palace was draped with American flags.

Aside from the thrill of the pictures themselves, taken under direction of the American government, there was inspiration in the mingling celebrities, high military officers, wounded soldiers, and soldiers on leave, all eager to see America's work in the pictures.

Glimpses of families and figures of inter-national reputation, before and after the show, were to be had by all in the great audience.

Capt. Roosevelt There

Capt. Archie Roosevelt stood chatting with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., near the box occupied by Marshal Joffre. Ambassadors of Japan and other allied nations, and representatives of President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau occupied boxes.

When the films were displayed Mrs. Roosevelt saw her major husband decorating two members of his battalion with the war cross, then standing smartly at attention while the troops passed in review. Capt. Roosevelt smiled at this sight of his brother, which was roundly cheered by the audience.

The house was jammed to capacity. The 6th cavalry band played patriotic and popular airs, the audience joining in singing, "Over There." The band was showered with flowers by enthusiastic French admirers.

Outside, a vast throng watched the arrival of celebrities. The most impressive scenes were enacted when a number of ambulances drove up. Slowly and carefully the boys who recently were wounded at Chateau Thierry were helped from the ambulances and tenderly assisted to seats in a section reserved for them. One French officer, unable to walk, was carried in by two husky American soldiers, whose locked hands formed a saddle, the Frenchman sitting with his arms about the necks of the Yankee boys. The dramatic realism of this picture outside the theatre brought more tears to the eyes of spectators than did any of the battle scenes within.

The battlefront struggles became even more impressive to me when I saw these bandaged boys, watching the pictures, whom I saw but a few days ago, fighting on the Marne. In the pictures they saw themselves, whole and strong, marching battleward. Again they saw the streams of refugees they passed enroute, and again were enacted before their eyes the scenes that marked the high tide of the German advance, when the Americans barred the road to Paris and stopped the enemy as the French had stoped him in 1914.

Applause for Leaders

Pictures of Pershing and Wilson were greeted with tremendous applause, as did all scenes depicting arrival of American transports, vast American docks and other military works in France, and the long lines of American troops, marching out to drive the Hun back out of France.

Capt. Roosevelt's first inquiry, addressed to the United Press representative, was for the pictures of his baby, which Mrs. Roosevelt had arranged to send him through United Press representatives. When told the pictures had not been received, the captain asked that Mrs. Roosevelt be requested to mail duplicates as soon as possible, as the first pictures sent may have been lost in the mails. Capt. Roosevelt has not seen his baby and is eager to get glimpse of its picture.

The captain still walks with aid of a cane, but he is well recovered from the worst effects of his wounds.

GIVES HER LIFE IN NOBLE CAUSE

In England they speak reverently of Miss Betty Stevenson, known as "The Happy Warrior." She drove a motor car in France and served in a Y. M. C. A. canteen. She cared for the relatives of the dangerously wounded. On the day she met her death she had been looking after French refugees.

She is buried in the hallowed soil of France. The British General ordered a military funeral and she was paid all the honors accorded an officer in the British army. From France has come the details of her death. It appears that Miss Stevenson with Miss Ruth Rouse and Norman Phillips, after enduring a terrific bombardment concealed in a cellar, were help up on the road by a shell hole. They left the car and when the bombardment started again sought what shelter they could in the ditches by the side of the road. Then a bomb, evidently dropped from an airplaine, killed Miss Stevenson and wounded Miss Rouse and Mr. Phillips.

Up to the moment of her death Miss Stevenson behaved with rare courage maintaining a splendid cheerfulness during the successive bombardments. Miss Rouse was severely wounded but will recover. A fragrament of the shell passed through Phillips' foot.

Y. M. C. A. "MOVIE" EQUIPMENT IN MESOPOTAMIA

In far away Mesopotamia, on the transports carrying troops across the sea, in the great cantonments at home, in the huts under shell fire, in the labor camps behind the lines in France, on the Mexican border, in the Holy Land, wherever fighting men are stationed, the Y. M C. A. is furnishing entertainment through motion pictures.

Today the Y. M. C. A. is the greatest user of motion picture film in the world, something over eight million feet being shown every week. In Italy the soldiers today are laughing at the antics of the late John Bunny, in England they are enjoying Douglas Fairbanks and in France Charlie Chaplin does his original walk on the screen.

Part of the neeessary equipment of every Y. M. C. A. building is a motion picture machine. Thousands upon thousands of feet of film are shown every night in the cantonments, military posts and naval training stations in this country.

Transport secretaries crossing the ocean to France with the American troops give regular entertainments aboard ship. It is the greatest diversion the soldiers find from the monotony of the perilous trip.

Away up near the front line trenches in dugouts where space is limited the "Y" men use a small machine throwing a tiny picture. On the Mexican border trucks fitted with batteries go to the outposts on the desert and give the isolated troops a bit of relief from the monotony of border patrol.

Forty thousand feet of film are placed on the transports. Thousands of feet of film are taken across the deserts in Africa on camel back to remote stations where soldiers are holding the enemy. A great exchange has been established in Paris to distribute motion picture film to the various points where operators have set up their projection booths in the war zone.

The motion picture has become one of the important features of army entertainment and education. Films are shown which teach the soldier how to hold his gun, how to meet the enemy with the bayonet, how to maneuver. The motion picture vies with the phonograph in popularity among soldiers. It is a maker of morale and, recognizing its wonderful powers, the Y. M. C. A. in its war work is making the most use of it.

REFRIGERATOR ECONOMIES

On account of the shortage in the supply of sheet steel and in order to meet increased needs of the government for certain other materials, the war service committee of the refrigerator manufacturers of the United States has been in conference with representatives of the War Industries Board to work out a program of conservation and substitution of materials. The committee's report of a plan to eliminate various sizes and styles of refrigerators for the purpose of saving not only materials, but labor and capital as well, will be submitted within a few days to the Conservation Division of the War Industries Board.

It is expected that the industry will concentrate production on certain standardized sizes and styles to be agreed upon and eliminate surplus styles that consume material the Government requires. This will make it posible to provide the remake it possible to provide the re-preservation of food, with the maximum economy of materials.

The war service committee of the refrigerator manufacturers expressed the desire of the industry to comply with the requirements of the Government in its conservation program.

E. W. Wilson, director of Sales of United States Certificates of Indebtedness for this Federal Reserve District believes that the third allotment of $36,000,000 offered on July 23 will be oversubscribed sufficiently to make up the deficit of the first two allotments. Although the nation oversubscribed these certificates this district is now $19,000,000 behind its quota.

AT PALACE GRAND

a Sealing Schooner. Bill Hart performs daring feats in the face of a big ocean tempest. Don't miss his latest super-attraction.

Also special comedy, Harold Lloyd (Lonesome Luke) in "That's Him."

THREE FOR ONE IS NOT ENOUGH

Ralph Harbison, a Pittsburg business man who headed an important commission sent to France, returned with this story, which shows the determination and grit of the Grim Private:

He was encountered in one of the forward Y. M. C. A. stations located in a shell-torn village at the end of a communication trench. His grimness was in striking contrast to the gayness of the men around him.

"Fritz got my corporal yesterday," he explained. "He was also my best friend."

His fists clenched over the rifle in his hands.

"But I go back into the trenches at four in the morning. I am going to get three Boches. My corporal was worth more than that of them, but three will begin to even things up." He got them.

HARD TO SCARE AMERICAN LADS

A motion picture was being shown by the Y. M. C. A. secretary on one of the transports to France. It was a particularly interesting picture and the soldiers were tense with interest. Something hit the bow of the boat with a fearful bang. It looked as if there was trouble ahead for of course the men thought it was a torpedo. A single man got to his feet and made a dash across the screen.

"Say, get out of the way will you?" yelled a soldier. "That was only a wave." And because of the steady nerve of the Y. M. C. A. operator the picture never even flickered. American soldiers don't scare worth a bit!

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McPherson of Pioneer Drive, left Friday for Catalina, where they will spend the week-end.

Miss Stella Bellue of 1452 Myrtle street has returned from a ten-day vacation with her grandmother in Los Angeles.

Samuel Parker has gone to Monrovia where he is the guest of Rev. L. G. Parker, pastor of the Christian church in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts have moved from 575 Colorado street, to the new house just built for them, next to 707 West Seventh street.

Mrs. Andrew P. Findlay of Garfield (Tenth) and Central avenues is at home after four weeks at a Los Angeles hospital and is able to see her friends.

A feature of the Sunday morning service at the Congregational church will be the reading of a recent letter from the pastor, Rev. E. H. Willisford, now in France.

Rev. J. N. Beal of Baltimore, will fill the pulpit Sunday morning and evening of Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, who is away on a short vacation.

H. D. Goss of 714 West Fifth street left Saturday morning on a business trip to Yuma. Mrs. Goss spent the day at Hermosa Beach as the guest of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, who is summering there.

The local Exemption Board, its files and equipment, have been transferred to the Trustee's Room in the Glendale City hall on Broadway, near Glendale avenue. The quarters are light and airy and will be advantageous on a number of accounts.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles have been relieved to receive a card announcing the safe arrival overseas of their son, Merle Eckles, who is in service as a motor mechanic specialist. Their last letter from him was dated from Hoboken, July 15th. They do not know as yet, where he is.

Mrs. Woolley, sister of Wesley Bullis, Mr. Woolley and their daughter Elaine, who have been residing in Las Vegas, Nevada, for several months, are now guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bullis, at 101 North Central avenue, Tropico District. They will probably be here for several weeks.

Miss Helen Allen, niece of Mrs. R. V. Hogue, who has been her guest the past week, returned Friday to her home in Santa Ana. Another guest in the Hogue home, Mrs. E. L. Tuck of New Mexico, sister of Mrs. Hogue, is so delighted with Glendale that she may decide to make her permanent residence here.

The many friends of the Soper family will be interested to learn that Prof. Edmund D. Soper, son of Rev. Julius Soper, of Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J., is here for a brief visit and will occupy the pulpit of the Casa Verdugo church Sunday morning, August 18th. The professor is on his way to the Orient for a six months' tour of missions.

The entertainment and dance given by the Occult Science Health and Success club, Friday night at Hurtt's hall was a great success socially and financially. In addition to the dancing the guests were entertained with an excellent musical and dramatic program. Mrs. Glaum's piano numbers and Mrs. Moore's vocal solos were very pleasing and Mrs. Goetz' amusing monologues, as usual were natural and spirited. The drums and piano afforded very good dance music and everyone enjoyed the party.

Henry Johnston, of 336 Everett street, is having a treat in the entertainment of his old friend and comrade of the Civil war, C. T. Marsh of Rockford, Illinois who is on his way to the G. A. R. Encampment at Portland, and who will spend the intervening ten days with Mr. Johnston. He arrived in Los Angeles Friday evening, and will take in the Yosemite Valley before he leaves this coast. He has been in the employ of the government for twenty years as a collector of internal revenue, and has been granted a thirty-day vacation.

IMPLEMENT CONSERVATION

The Conservation Division of the War Industries Board has completed a comprehensive investigation of the general farm implement and farm operating equipment industry and, after numerous preparatory meetings, a detailed schedule of types and sizes of the principal class of farm implements and farm operating equipment to be manufactured during the war period has been formally adopted by all the interests involved.

Under the elimination program, approximately 3,000 surplus types of plows and tillage implements have been discontinued. For example, out of 303 types of plows only 65 will be manufactured after December 31, 1918. Of over 300 types of corn planters and drills only 10 will be manufactured, and 107 types of harrows have been reduced to 44.

Members of the industry prepared the initial program of conservation at the request of the War Industries Board. The final schedule was completed only after carefully taking into consideration the actual needs of the farmer as well as various styles of farm equipment that might be termed "lesser essentials."

Will Reduce Stocks

The elimination made effective by this program will materially reduce the size of stocks carried and the capital invested as well as volume of transportation necessary to carry the agricultural implements to the farmer. Production of the remaining types of implements will also be materially increased as a matter of course. A large amount of steel and iron will be released automatically for war purposes and other necessary industries by the reduction of stocks carried by factories, jobbers, and other distributors.

In addition to the reduction in styles and, consequently, of stocks carried, concentrating efforts on fewer types is expected to work toward stabilizing the cost to the farmer without hardship on the producer.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

Richardson D. White, Superintendent of Schools, his wife and daughter Helen, got back Thursday from a week's outing at Laguna Beach. They did a little fishing, in which Mrs. White made a better record than her husband, at least he so reports.

Mr. White is busy just now looking up men to fill vacancies in the teaching force of our city schools. Mr. Harkness, who has been the instructor in manual training at the Intermediate School, goes to Calexico High School the coming year, and Mr. Lehman, who has had charge of physical training in the same school, has decided to devote his time to his ranch in Orange county. Both these positions will be hard to fill.

E. E. Harwood, recently from Idaho, has been engaged as principal of the Cerritos avenue school.

There will also be some shifting of kindergarten teachers. Miss Prindle, who married during the school year and is now Mrs. Davis, has resigned her position and Miss Crump, who substituted for a time last year, has been elected to fill her place.

Glendale teachers will this year have an increase of salaries averaging about $5 per month. A balance in the treasury which could be used for this purpose enabled the Board to make this increase without enlarging the budget, which will really be less than last year because of a reduction in the amount ordinarily expended for improvements at this time of year. Some money has been spent at the Cerritos avenue school, where the plumbing was insanitary and had all to be replaced. The schools in the Tropico district will be operated on practically the same lines as last year.

MEETING OF GLENDALE BRANCH

The Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. of Glendale, was entertained Thursday evening at the home of the Superintendent, Mrs. C. H. Rowe, of 516 South Orange street, Miss Nellie Rowe acting as hostess. About eighteen young ladies and gentlemen were present and spent a delightful evening. The program included readings by Miss Dorothy Williams, a Berkeley student, violin numbers by Miss Faith Tarling, who furnished the accompaniment for songs by Miss Hazel Walters, Misses Helen Esterly, Nellie Rowe and Faith Tarling sang "America" in Spanish. Miss Elizabeth Mottern gave a biographical sketch of Lady Henry Somerset, the great leader of the temperance movement in England, the anniversary of whose birthday occurred recently. She told of her work among the laboring classes and how in the face of great skepticism she established a home for working women which proved so great a success that it was the beginning of industrial homes for women all over the world. Cake and ice cream were served by the hostesses and following the program and parliamentary drill the young people entertained themselves with games.

SAVE THE FRUIT

An earnest request comes from the Emergency chairman of the Glendale Federation P. T. A. that every individual in this community be a committee of one to help in the conserving of fruit and vegetables for the needy ones of our town. Every year quantities of fruit are wasted; perhaps only a few pounds here and a few pounds somewhere else, but "Many a mickle makes a muckle" as our Scotch friends say. The Emergency chairman, Mrs. McKee, has a plan whereby this fruit may be saved and placed where it will help someone. The women who assist her will can, or dry it or she will send it at once to the ones who need it, if you will either take it to the Central Market, 328 S. Brand, or telephone Glendale 377 and your offering wil be called for. Fruit, vegetables and fruit jars are needed. Any one knowing of people having fruit or odd jars for canning, please remind these people there is a place where every bit will be used to help some one. No matter what make of jars, bring them in for lids can be bought for them and they will be used. Remember—take them to the Central Market, or phone Glendale 377, and don't wait till fruit is spoiling—call them early.

WALNUT LOGS NEEDED

More American walnut is needed for airplane propellers and gunstocks. During the four years' test in the present war this wood has proven to be the best material for the manufacture of the above article.

The Government needs all the walnut that can be secured during the continuance of the war, but it does not buy the wood direct, as not all of it can be used for the above purposes. Mills holding Government contracts for gunstocks or propellers are anxious to purchase walnut trees and logs, and the Government urges owners of trees or logs to sell them to the saw mills. Owing to their inability to purchase sufficient walnut logs, the sawmil proprietors have not been able to suply the present requirements of this Government and the allies.

Every Tree Counts

"Fight with your walnut trees," is the new slogan of the Hardwood Section, Bureau of Aircraft Production, and the Small Arms Section, Ordnance Department. Half a dozen trees will provide lumber for a propeller and supply gunstocks for a platoon of infantry. The lack of one plane in the air or a platoon in the front line might lose a battle. Every tree counts.

If you have a walnut tree 12 inches or more in diameter, write to Capt. R. L. Oakley, Production Division, Small Arms Section, Ordnance Department, Sixth and B streets, Washington, D. C. He will advise you where you can sell your walnut at a fair price.

HEROISM BRINGS STRIKING REWARD.

What would you think and how would you feel if you were invited to dine with the General commanding an important sector on the Western Front and when you entered all the officers stood at salute until you were seated at the General's right?

Then how would you feel if a French army captain, at the command of the General, took his Croix de Guerre from his own breast and pinned iit on your coat?

You'd feel pretty good, eh?

Well, that is what happened to Edwin W. Ely, of New York City, a Y. M. C. A. War Worker secretary in charge of a Foyer du Soldat, which corresponds to a "Y" hut.

Ely had stuck by his post during the recent drive until the last French soldier left. He carried supplies in a pack and helped to supply regiments with food during the retirement. He aided in rescuing refugees and showed exceptional bravery under fire.

CHILDREN LEARN AMERICAN SLANG

French children are picking up English rapidly since American soldiers reached France but they are acquiring slang phrases first, according to Y. M. C. A. War Worker secretaries. One day an American Major was walking through a village street when a little girl, not more than four, stepped in front of him, saluted and said in the sweetest childish voice: "Hello, kid!" Everywhere the children wave and say goodbye when they see an American. To them it means, "How do you do?" But the climax was reached when a five-year old boy that is the pet of the American troops was stopped by the General of the division. The boy listened to the kindly words of the General and said: "Good bye; go chase yourself."

Just as a Mighty Oak

Both when well started have a steady growth. You can start your account this month. Even though it be a small one at first, if you will steadily add to it in a few years you will have a capital worth working for.

If you live in Glendale, make up your mind to start an account in this Glendale Bank and watch your money grow with the bank and the town.

TUJUNGA

Mrs. P. J. Blake received a pair of fine vases from the Captain "somewhere in France," made from shells used in fighting the Hun. The shells were worked up by convalescents at the hospital in very pretty hammered brass designs. One of the vases is on exhibition at the post office and is greatly admired by all who see it.

Have you put in your potatoes for your winter use? Now is the time, but it is much harder to enthuse over gardens in August than in March.

Charles W. Dean, who is up from the Imperial Valley, says the last week was intensely hot in Brawley, the mercury registering 112 degrees at midnight for three consecutive nights. Mr. Irwin of Summit street claims the mercury at Brown, Ariz., the same time was 120 degrees at night and 136 degrees in the daytime, so it was not so warm in Imperial after all.

Mrs. Edna H.Storms, who has been visiting in Tujunga the past week, left for a further vacation at Long Beach and will later return to Ontario for the grape season.

The usual Red Cross sewing bee was held at Bolton Hall on Friday. A large number of ladies were in attendance but the day so exceedingly warm that it was hard work to speed up very much.

Saturday last was the warmest day of the season, the thermometer registering 110 degrees at one p. m.

Capt. House and wife, from Los Angeles, were guests of Mrs. Colburn over Sunday. Capt. House has charge of the commissary departments for Camp Kearny, MacArthur and McEney. He thinks this place is wonderful and would like to make his home among us.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilles have bene staying at the home of Mrs. Colburn the past week and are very enthusiastic over its many advantages as a home place. Mr. Gilles is the manager of the Desmodn Clothing Company of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hazzard gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on the food problem at Bolton Hall on Thursday, first handling the uses of different flour substitutes, the quantity to be used in place of wheat flour. Then followed a dissertation on cottage cheese and the cheese loaf and creamed potatoes with cottage cheese as well as a delicious dessert of strawberry preserves and cottage cheese, attested the good of the combinations. She urged the use of the milk and cheese in order that the milk industry might be kept up. The use of cottage cheese as a meat substitute was shown in her demonstration. A number of bulletins in regard to these cheese substitutes were handed out and more are to be sent to Miss Gilbrt for distribution. Questions were called for and clear, ready answers given. Cake and muffins were also made and sampled by those present. All pronounced them good. One plea made by Mrs. Hazzard was "to deal with your local merchants even if you have to pay a little more, for they are hit the hardest by the present war conditions. They have only a small trade at best, and unless they receive patronage from all are soon forced to retire and leave the community without a store." We all know how true this is and if we believe in "doing as we would be done by," will uphold our own local store. Later Mrs. Hazzard hopes to return and give us a demonstration in making cheese from goats' milk and various ways of caring for the fig crop. We surely had a very pleasant and profitable day and look forward to her return. A goodly number of ladies were present both from Tujunga and Sunland. Mrs. Hazzard's strongest urge was for the conservation of wheat flour and sugar, saying that she had not used a pound of flour in her own home for five months.

Mrs. Parcher returned from Los Angeles last Saturday and says she prefers the heat of Tujunga to that of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Haggarty are returning to Long Beach after a week at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eckhart went to Los Angeles on Wednesday and from there will go to the beach for a few days.

Mrs. Ludke left on Tuesday for Coos Bay to remain for a time with her sister, who is ill.

Mr. Hartley of Los Angeles street has secured work with the Bekins Co. of Los Angeles, with whom he worked for five years before coming to Tujunga.

The meeting of the Red Cross Auxiliary on Friday, the 26th of July, completed the first year's work, and the annual election of officers was held, resulting in the re-election of Mrs. Wilmot Parcher as chairman, Mrs. Frost as vice-chairman, Miss Zoe Gilbert secretary, and Mrs. Gertrude Luedke re-elected treasurer. Both Mrs. Parcher and Mrs. Luedke were very desirous of being discharged from official service, but it being the unanimous conviction of all present that we had no one to replace them who could give such efficient service, their protests were overruled and their re-election as stated above was most unanimous. The vice-chairman is to assume Mrs. Parcher's duties during a three months' vacation which the ladies granted her. Our Auxiliary feels that the very gratifying results of the year's work, eleven hundred hospital garments besides innumerable knitted articles, such as socks, sweaters, helmets, etc., with a goodly sum of money turned in to the Pasadena Chapter, are very largely the result of the wise and efficient leadership of our chairman and her corps of assistant officers, and we take this opportunity to express publicly our appreciation of their faithful service and our keen satisfaction at their reelection. We anticipate another year (should the war continue) of pleasant and profitable association together with these loyal workers. We also wish to express in this public manner our sincere appreciation and thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Dean, who have given very great assistance to our Auxiliary in giving storage to our work, often at their own inconvenience, and in always being ready to lend a hand in any time of need. Their self-sacrificing spirit is surely to be commended.

FLORA RODEHEAVER,
Secretary.

SUNLAND

Mr. Moyer, wife and son and daughter of Huntington Park who have been spending the week camping in the Monte Vista Park returned to their home, Tuesday.

Mrs. Balgo of Los Angeles spent Tuesday with her old schoolmate, Mrs. A. D. Kirschman on Walnut Drive.

Mrs. Haydn at the Tavern has quite a class in china painting. She is an artist in that line of work.

Reilly, poultry specialist, spoke on "How to Eliminate the Slacker Hen" and Farm Advisor Scribner was also present to answer questions appertaining to the wants of the day.

The Red Cross classes need you. Do you realize that more than ever before supplies are needed? Many, many of our boys are "over there." Some will be wounded. All will require some sort of supply. Come out at least one day in the week, Tuesday or Thursday, 10 to 5. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Ayres will welcome you and give you plenty to do.

Lieutenant E. N. Nettleton left Friday for Camp Oglethorpe, Georgia, to answer to the call for veterinarians. We will miss him from our community but are glad that he can go and make his learning and talents a patriotic gift to his country.

Thrift Stamp pledges are being well kept up. Buy early in the month so you won't swamp Mr. Wetherbee on the last days. Our government needs our quarters and "every little two bits helps."

Did you know that the Government will buy apricot, peach, prune and plum pits, either entire or pits alone, from raw or cooked fruits? Save yours up when canning and give them to the Red Cross. They are used to make a certain kind of charcoal with which gas masks for the army are packed. Your few and mine and our neighbors' will soon mount up into pounds and the Red Cross will gladly accept them as a means of revenue.

Miss Haugh, the school principal, has received news of the death of a brother who was in the army "somewhere in France." She has gone home to Michigan for the rest of the vacation period.

Mrs. H. E. Bruce and Florence are at Redondo Beach for a week's vacation.
